JOBS AND BEDS TO GO AT PAH

CHIEF EXEC: Melanie Walker

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

UP to 250 jobs are to be axed and 60 beds cut at Princess Alexandra Hospital in a bid to meet savings requirements of £17 million.

Staff were told on Tuesday that almost 10 per cent of current posts at the Hamstel Road hospital could be cut over the next year as a result of increasing financial pressures in the wake of Government funding cuts.

The PAH NHS Trust has also revealed plans to gradually cut the number of beds – which currently stands at 474 – by 60 over the next 12 months.

New Chief Executive Melanie Walker, who has been with the Trust for four months, said the move was necessary to protect frontline service provision.

"We are facing a lot of pressure and will end up in serious debt if we carry on as we are," she told the Star.

"By acting now and responding to the challenges the whole of NHS is facing we are hoping to avoid that – but it means we have to make significant savings.

"What is absolutely bottom line for us is maintaining the quality and safety of our services.

"£17 million is a lot of money, but our plan is to make most of these savings through productivity – by making changes to how things are done and getting better at what we do. Beds will gradually be shut down but the system will remain flexible – should we need them we will use them.

"There will also be very few – if any – clinical posts made redundant. They will be focused on what we call back office positions in administration and management."

Ms Walker confirmed that all staff at the hospital, which currently employs around 2,750 people, will be offered the option of voluntary redundancy.

Options for redeployment will also be discussed.

"I'm sure staff will be anxious and that is

Chief executive announces cuts at hospital

completely understandable but I also know that they will continue to do their very best for patients," she added.

"Ultimately, it is about protecting the PAH's frontline and services. If we get this right now then things can only get better."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon described the cuts as "a great shame".

"I have met with the CEO, who has assured me that most job cuts will be voluntary redundancies and that frontline positions will be protected," he said.

"Unfortunately, the huge deficit from the PCT has made this outcome unavoidable. I just hope that in the next couple of years we can get the hospital back on track and move forward with plans for it to become a Foundation Trust."

But David Forman, the secretary of political pressure group Harlow Against the Cuts, accused the Government of forcing the hospital into a "quick-fix" that would compromise patient care.

"If the Government finished off projects already started, like the NHS computer system, they would save more in the long-term," he said.

"This is about clearing money quickly to get rid of deficits – it's not a long-term plan. The fact is 250 jobs losses will not only have a big impact in the community, but also on the hospital itself.

"Ultimately the real losers will end up being the patients."

Scout stalwart dies of cancer

ONE of Harlow's longest-serving Scout leaders has died following a three-year battle with cancer.

Judith Gilder, of Latton Green, began helping local Scout groups when she moved to Harlow in 1969 on marrying Colin.

The couple formed the 1st Harlow Scouts a year later, which met at Passmores School for 30 years.

Judith passed away at St Clare Hospice on July 3. She is survived by Colin, son Ian and grandchildren Lois and Frankie. Her funeral service will be held on Monday at 1.45pm at Parndon Wood Crematorium.

The family has requested donations in Judith's memory are made to St Clare Hospice via Daniel Robinson & Sons.

Mum imprisoned by stranger in her home

By COURT REPORTER
news@harlowstar.co.uk

A HARLOW man who imprisoned and attacked a total stranger in her own home has been made the subject of a secure hospital order.

As his victim's two-year-old son screamed and cried, drunken paranoid schizophrenic Mark Rawlinson (22) ripped Louise Smith's T-shirt from top to bottom and stopped her from escaping from the house, Chelmsford Crown Court heard.

Prosecutor Samantha Lowther said Rawlinson, formerly of Park Mead, Harlow, burst in after knocking on Ms Smith's door in Loughton, at 7pm on July 14 last year.

"She tried to get to the door to open it, but he pushed her back and grabbed her body with both hands to stop her," she told the court.

"They struggled and he ripped her whole T-shirt from the bottom to the sleeve."

When Ms Smith picked up her son and ran to the back door to try to escape, Rawlinson dragged her away, locked the door and removed the key.

"She asked him not to hurt her or her little boy because he was just a baby," Miss Lowther continued, adding that Rawlinson had told his victim the police were after him.

Earlier the same day, police had received reports of Rawlinson being drunk and "talking rubbish", and had seen him zig-zagging across fields.

As their search for him narrowed, they heard screams coming from the house. Officers were able to open the door and a terrified Ms Smith ran out.

Miss Lowther said: "She was extremely distressed, crying, shaking and having a panic attack. She thought he would kill her."

In an impact statement read out to the court, Ms Smith said she had moved house because she no longer felt safe.

Rawlinson, who at the time of the incident was staying at his grandmother's house in Loughton, pleaded guilty to false imprisonment.

He also admitted assaulting a police officer and racially-aggravated common assault on an officer on 12 February last year, further admitting to the assault of a nurse at the Derwent Centre in Harlow on September 10.

The court was told he had previously been convicted of brandishing a 10cm knife and threatening police in the street outside his home in Park Mead, Harlow, in January 2005.

Judge Christopher Ball QC imposed a hospital order under the Mental Health Act after hearing Rawlinson had been diagnosed as a paranoid schizophrenic with a long-term personality disorder, aggravated by excessive use of alcohol.

He is currently in a secure unit in Harlow and will not be released until doctors say he is fit.

Pupils' wild, watery day out!

THRILLSEEKING GCSE students from a Harlow school took time out from their studies to tackle the fast-flowing rapids at Lee Valley White Water Centre.

As part of Lee Valley Park Authority's School Festival, 14 youngsters studying PE at Stewards School paddled their way down the same course the world's top athletes will face during next year's Olympics.

The school's assistant head of PE Gareth Hughes, who joined the pupils on their adventure, described the day as "exhilarating".

"It was a thoroughly enjoyable experience for all our students," he said.

"It's certainly not something that any of them will forget in a hurry!"

Lord Seb Coe, chair of the London 2012 Organising

WATER LAUGH!
Stewards pupils try out the Olympic white water course

Committee (LOCOC), added: "Lee Valley White Water Centre Schools Festival has been a fantastic way to bring the Olympics close to the young people of Harlow. "They've experienced something truly unique at a world-class London 2012 venue and they can now say: 'I've raced the same course as the Olympians.'"

The centre is open to the public in the run-up to the Games – for more information, log on to www.gowhitewater.co.uk or call 08456 770 606.

Pupils seek help for Kenya project

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

STUDENTS preparing for an overseas adventure to help a small community in Kenya are appealing to residents and local businesses to help them reach their fundraising targets.

The 21 Mark Hall pupils need to raise £3,500 each before they can join the expedition to help improve the lives of impoverished villagers.

If successful, they will travel to Africa in July of next year and spend 28 days living in their assigned village, working on projects to improve access to proper sanitation and clean drinking water and assisting with health care and education.

Shona Thompson, the school's director of learning and achievement, described the trip as a "once in a lifetime opportunity".

"We are the first school in

PIC: HAR753703

Harlow to offer anything like this and think it will be an incredible opportunity for our students," she said.

"It is beneficial in every way. Not only will the actual experience broaden their young minds and raise their aspirations, but it is already teaching them so many new skills like teamwork and communication through the fundraising activities.

"It will also benefit those people in Kenya who will be on the receiving end of our students' help."

So far the youngsters, who will all be aged 16 when they hope to leave for Kenya, have held a sponsored car wash, organised a fundraising barbecue and sold specially-designed Father's Day T-shirts.

Events planned for the months ahead include a motor show, a 24-hour football match and a psychic night.

"All the students are working really hard to raise the money," said Ms Thompson. "It would be fantastic if we could get some local companies on board as sponsors and if all the community could support us by taking part in our upcoming fundraisers."

She added: "The next 12 months will be hard work for the students but the benefits will be huge.

"They will have opportunities and challenges normally faced by students in their gap year."

For more information about helping the expedition team, contact Ms Thompson on (01279) 866280 or email Kenya@markhall.essex.sch.uk.

Store staff pedal their way to £500

SHOP workers have raised more than £500 for a cancer research charity by taking part in a bikeathon.

Staff at the Marks & Spencer store in Broad Walk, Harlow, took it in turns to cycle an exercise bike in the shop window non-stop for three days to raise funds for Breakthrough Breast Cancer.

Trainers from local gym Esporta, who donated the bike free of charge, also helped the group to complete the challenge.

M&S section manager Laura Lucking said the event had been a huge success. "It was a really fun and we were lucky to have so many generous people in our store willing to donate towards this great cause.

"We'd like to say a big thank you to all who donated and took part and also to Esporta for so kindly providing the equipment."

Golfers' wedge of cash for St Clare

MORE than 60 teams of golfers took part in St Clare Hospice's annual fundraising tournament which boosted the coffers by £40,000

The golf day, organised and sponsored by Weston Homes, saw the teams of four compete in two 18-hole rounds on a course in Colchester.

Bob Weston, chairman and chief executive of the sponsors, said: "St Clare Hospice is a cause that is very close to our hearts and it is fantastic that we have been able to raise a total of £40,000 this year.

"I would like to thank everyone who attended the golf day or contributed in some way to such a worthy cause."

Tanya Curry, acting CEO and director of patient care at St Clare Hospice added: "The money raised makes a significant difference to the care we can provide, particularly in these uncertain financial times."

Fun for all at Sally Army fete

FUN for all the family is on the cards at the Harlow Salvation Army's annual summer fete on Saturday.

The event, which takes place at the branch's headquarters in Tendring Road, will include a variety of stalls, refreshment stands, bouncy castle and an auction.

Admission is free and the fete will run from 11am-2pm. For more information contact Becky Hunn on (01279) 441581.

Cancer mum 'overwhelmed' by tea party success

A MOTHER battling cancer has fought through the pain barrier to organise and host a fundraising tea party in aid of the charity Breast Cancer Care.

More than 100 people attended Deborah Philpot's strawberry tea event and tucked into home-baked cakes and sweets. There were also activity stalls, a bouncy castle and pony rides.

"The response was overwhelming," said mum-of-one Deborah (40), of Hadley Grange, Harlow. "I want to thank all the people who gave up their time and help to support the event. Together we raised £870 towards the ongoing fight against breast cancer."

Deborah was first diagnosed in March 2007. After fighting a two-year battle against the disease she was told it had spread to her lungs in 2009.

She had just given up her accountancy job to pursue her dream of being a florist when she found out she had cancer.

"In the time since I was diagnosed I have had a mastectomy, a hysterectomy, undergone chemotherapy and now have to have extra oxygen at home to help with my breathing," she said.

"It has been very tough, particularly on my six-year-old son Robert as he was only two when I was first diagnosed so he has only known an ill mummy.

"However it isn't the end of the road and I am due to try a new treatment soon. You just have to take each day as it comes."

£1m cashpot to run town 'attractions'

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW Council has launched a £1m 'Big Society Fund' to support the controversial transfer of seven of its most popular services to new owners.

As the Star revealed earlier this month, the Conservative administration is seeking new 'partners' from the private and voluntary sectors to take over the running of attractions including Harlow Playhouse and Pets' Corner, and on Thursday approved plans for a £1m package of financial incentives for would-be suitors.

The council hopes to save around £1.7m each year by offloading its discretionary portfolio – which also includes The Museum of Harlow, Parndon Wood Nature Reserve, The Gibberd Gallery, paddling pools and the Town Park Showground and Bandstand – and has warned that each service faces closure unless new operators are found.

Council leader Andrew Johnson this week told the Star the plans – described by outraged opposition councillors as a "fire sale" – were "ambitious" but necessary.

"We are embarking on an ambitious project to explore how we can work together with other organisations to provide our discretionary services," he said.

"To support that we have created this £1m Big Society Fund to help support organisations who want to run and develop these services in future.

"This could be the difference between these popular community services continuing or not."

A total of £1m will be pumped into the initiative from the cash-strapped authority's General Fund Reserve, which it claims is affordable only as a result of "careful financial management" and the recent receipt of a £568,000 VAT refund "windfall" from Her Majesty's Revenue & Customs.

But Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson described the fund as a "fudge" and said he had serious concerns about the future of each service once the council's contribution dried up.

"On the face of it, £1m sounds like a lot of money, but when you take into account that it costs the council £1.7m a year to run these services, it soon becomes apparent that this money will not last long," he said.

"The council are basically washing their hands of everything that is great about Harlow – once the pot is empty, they will have absolutely no say over how each service is run, meaning cherished attractions could disappear altogether."

■ The council is holding a conference on July 22 where delegates from interested private, community and voluntary sector organisations can learn more about the proposals and the financial incentives available.

The meeting will be held at Harlow Study Centre in Netteswellbury Farm between 2pm and 4.30pm. For more information, visit www.harlow.gov.uk/workingtogether.

Cash grows at flower fest

A HARLOW church's flower festival was a blooming success after they smashed their original fundraising target.

Organisers of the event at St Mary at Latton Church in Little Pardon Mill had hoped to raise at least £300 to help pay for two Tanzanian girls' school fees, but ended up hitting £500 by the end of their busy day.

As well as the flower displays, which were arranged by members of the congregation, the church also had home-made cakes and preserves on sale, a children's flower arranging competition and Victorian game stalls.

Press co-ordinator Barbara Aylett said: "We were thrilled to raise so much money and felt the day went very well indeed."

BLOOMING: MP Rob Halfon opens St Mary at Latton's flower festival, alongside the Rev Martin Harris and the Rev Sue Knight (photo: HAR753008)

"We haven't done anything like this for a long time, but everyone worked together and did a great job."

"We'd like to say a big thank you to Daniel Robinson & Sons, who supported us, and to our sponsors, Sainsbury's."

The Only Way... to meet TV stars is to get down to Libertys nightclub

FANS of hit TV show The Only Way Is Essex are in for a treat tomorrow (Friday) night when members of the cast pay a visit to a Harlow nightclub.

With film crew in tow, the perma-tanned stars of the Bafta award-winning ITV2 programme will be making a special guest appearance at Libertys Superclub on Terminus Street – and those with VIP tickets will be able to meet and greet some of their favourite characters.

Club promoter Martin Cotton told the Star: "This is set to be a fantastic night out - we've got James 'Arg' Barker and others coming down with a film crew, so for fans of the show this is simply unmissable!"

'Arg' will also be appearing live on stage, with other entertainment on the night provided by Heart FM's Next Big Thing winner Tony Roberts and DJ sets from Shooosh and The Brooks Brothers.

Martin added: "We've still got a couple of tables available in the VIP area, but they will disappear quickly – make sure you don't miss out!"

For more information, or to book tickets, visit the nightclub's website www.libertysharlow.co.uk or email bookings @libertysharlow.co.uk

We must protest to save services

SIR, Alongside thousands of other people in Harlow we are appalled at the prospective sell-off of our much-loved services.

We are in a state of world recession due to the irresponsible behaviour of bankers. They go on merrily with their vast salaries, profits and bonuses while ordinary people are made to pay the price for their greed and failure.

The deficit is used as an excuse by the Tory-led government to change the face of Britain as we know it. They are powered by a radical ideology to change services which were hard won over the years and to sell them – in short, to privatise everything they can lay their hands on.

The deficit could be largely reduced by the Government dealing with regulation on banks, bankers and offshore tax havens and by scrapping Trident and stopping our involvement in wars.

The local council reflects central government policy. Talk of use of voluntary bodies to run services is ludicrous; we all know that their grants have been cut drastically. Let's face it, our services will be sold off to the highest bidder; it is in the long-term about privatisation and profit.

Forget community, forget universal, forget co-operative, forget collective. These words will no longer appear in a future Tory dictionary should they have their way.

A council that could even think about closing Sam's Place – a club for children with disabilities – shows their lack of care. But that decision was overturned by protest and that is what we must do to turn these decisions around.

The council is implementing central government policy. It is well worth remembering that the Government were not elected by a popular vote.

Gibberd legacy for pleasure, not profit

SIR, Harlow Council chairman Mike Garnett was recently quoted in the Star as saying: "We have a first class venue in the Gibberd Gallery and the prestige of the show demonstrates that Harlow really is a leading arts venue in the east of England."

The front page of the same edition of the Star reports that the council is poised to sell off some of its most popular services – including the Gibberd Gallery.

When Sir Frederick Gibberd decided to donate his lifetime's collection of Bristol watercolour paintings to the town he told me several times that it was a gift to the people of Harlow and that the collection must remain a free and open display in perpetuity.

The collection is a marvellous legacy from a great man who designed our splendid town. Surely even this council must respect his wishes and intention and not privatise his bequest. It belongs to 80,000 people, not six cabinet members.

His gift was for lasting pleasure, not profit.

Obeys the rules of the roundabouts

SIR, I know that they are a pain as there are so many of them in Harlow, but please can drivers try and remember how to use roundabouts.

You have to give way to the right, not just pull out or not even bother to stop when approaching it.

You also have to drive around the roundabout, not over or even the wrong way around the little ones. I have lost count of the number of times I have almost lost the front of my car giving way to a car which then comes round my side of the roundabout.

One other point, indicators are very useful items and most days I don't have my mind-reading skills switched on. So remember to turn them on when turning corners and

Devolved power needs funding

SIR, The Cabinet member for community and citizenship seems highly sensitive to scepticism about the council inviting the 'voluntary and business community' to run seven discretionary services (Letters, July 7).

No one criticises a conference consulting community groups on creative ways of working to sustain services.

But can two hours possibly do justice to complex issues related to just one facility, let alone seven – with no general debate in principle? Decisions taken today can have serious consequences in future.

The MP will set the context on 'The Big Society'. Warning bells ring. Nationally, Cameron has declared war on public services. Local councils' budgets were slashed; charities and community groups are already suffering.

The idea of little platoons of community groups is basically good, tho' not new. But it's essential they are supported by councils.

Time and commitment are needed in getting involved – including, for example, ensuring animals are safe during the night and cared for throughout the year, regardless of rain, hail, wind or snow! Even the Big Society Tsar, Lord Wei, had scarcely launched the concept when he realised he had no time or money to fulfil his role – and promptly resigned!

The failures of Liverpool and Suffolk again warn us: cuts were too deep and fast to sustain volunteers.

The Victorian/Tory vision of charitable bodies with begging bowls, plugging gaps, rationing help – and blame! – has little appeal. Why couldn't the council explore different ways of running services?

We are right to be wary. Harlow has a proud Labour history of supporting discretionary services: arts for everyone; pride in our cultural heritage; free access to Pets' Corner, the museum, nature reserve, paddling pools and concerts in the park...community assets to be cherished, not closed ultimately through lack of consistent support.

So yes, devolving power, involving community groups with roots in the co-operative movement, working together for the common good has great strengths.

But our valued facilities each need assurances of core funding for the foreseeable future and continuity of support from professional, experienced staff. Otherwise, it could lead the way to removing services altogether, as one-off grants are used up and not replaced.

We await the response of groups with interest. Yet apparently, they must demonstrate a viable plan within a fortnight – far too quickly!

Are Harlow's community assets really safe in their hands?

please check that they are turned off when you have turned a corner as I often see cars with their indicator on whilst driving the full length of a road, thereby confusing all other drivers

Removing posts helps grass grow

SIR, I can well understand the need for Harlow Council to remove goalposts from their playing fields (Letters, June 23). It is quite logical to encourage the grass to regrow in the goalmouths between the end of one season and the start of another.

If the goalposts were not removed people would always be kicking a ball around the goalmouths, meaning they would soon resemble concrete in August and September before becoming muddy swamps in the following months.

I played football in the Harlow league for 20 seasons and very rarely can I recall a decent playing area near the goals. The players who suffered the most were, of course, the goalkeepers!

Can you help with New Town history?

SIR, I am on the hunt for people who have interesting stories to tell about the early days of Harlow New Town in the 1950s and early '60s for a social history book I'm writing about the age of Britain's post-war reconstruction (1945-79).

The book consists of interviews with people who planned, designed, built and lived or worked in modern buildings and towns in this period, telling the real story of what it was like to be one of the first people to live what many considered the 'modern dream' in the Cold War era.

I'm keen to hear from anyone who was there and has some good memories of what it was like to move to a town that was still being built, or who may have diaries or letters on the subject from the time.

If any Star readers would be interested in being involved they can contact me via email at thisconcreteisle@gmail.com.

Did you witness our bus incident?

SIR, I am hoping through your paper to locate two local people who witnessed an incident involving my 75-year-old sister and myself on the number 6 bus in Tumbler Road, Harlow, last December.

It was just after midday on Wednesday, December 29 when the bus suddenly braked, throwing both of us from our seats and causing us injury.

At the time the names of two people who witnessed the incident were written on a piece of paper and taken by the driver. However, since then, the paper has disappeared and the bus company is claiming there were no injuries incurred.

In order for us to pursue our complaint we need to make contact with those two people. One was a gentleman from Nicholls Field who kindly helped us both and the other was a woman who was standing at the bus stop and saw the fall.

My sister is still in a lot of pain and awaiting a scan and doctor's appointments to sort out her shoulder, so for them to say that there were no injuries is appalling.

If you are one of these two people or know who they are, I would be extremely grateful if you could contact the Star, who will pass on information to us.

SIR, After writing to the Star in February, we would like to express our gratitude for the footpath and landscaping being completed.

But as well as a dog waste bins, can we have a litter bin for the rubbish that gets dumped along this lovely footpath please? Perhaps the bin could be beside the bus stop.

Homes ban for hellraising pair

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HELLRAISING mother and daughter who terrorised a Harlow neighbourhood with their drunken and violent behaviour have been banned from every council property in the town.

Chelmsford County Court granted the six-month injunction to Harlow Council's housing service after hearing how Tracey Ayers (46) and her daughter Kayleigh Blunnie (25) intimidated neighbours and engaged in drunken street brawls while living in Spring Hills.

The court was told the unemployed pair moved between at least four different flats in Harlow, befriending vulnerable occupants or breaking in before turning the properties into "drinking dens".

One witness described how the warring mother and daughter even turned on each other outside a flat in Spring Hills on Mother's Day, fighting drunkenly in the street.

Harlow Council began receiving complaints about the pair in April 2011, with one neighbour comparing the atmosphere in the road as similar to "living in the Bronx" in a reference to the notoriously tough New York neighbourhood.

Ayers and Blunnie were given 24 hours to leave their last known address in Spring Hills after the judgement was issued on June 22, and are now banned from entering any council house in Harlow without written permission until December of this year.

Police and housing officers have since secured the property, which is now empty.

The emergency ruling renders the pair subject to arrest if its terms are violated.

Councillor Clive Souter, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for housing, told the Star this week: "This selfish pair had reduced their street to a state of fear through their appalling behaviour and were effectively bullying their way into living in properties where they were not even the tenant."

"What this ruling shows is that the council will use all the tools available to us in preventing anti-social behaviour."

Horse health is reined in by charities

DOZENS of horses tethered on Harlow land have been wormed and microchipped following an RSPCA-led equine welfare drive.

Set up with help from Ada Cole Rescue Centre and Redwings Horse Sanctuary, the event also offered owners - many of whom are from the travelling community - the chance to purchase 'passports' for their animals.

RSPCA inspector Stephen Reeves told the Star: "We got a great response - the way the majority of owners tether and look after their horses is acceptable within the Animal Welfare Act, but it is always important to make improvements and that's what we're trying to achieve by being proactive."

"Passports and chipping go hand in hand with welfare - they promote responsible ownership."

Representatives from animal health company Merial, the British Horse Society and World Horse Welfare also attended the event, which covered Latton Common, Collins Meadow and Harlow Common.

RSPCA chief inspector for Essex, Dawn Avery added: "It was a big success. We completed passport paperwork for 34 horses, chipped and wormed 36 and gave advice."

"We will definitely hold another of these events in the future."

Home burgled

POLICE are appealing for information following a burglary at an address in Harlow. The incident took place between Thursday (July 7) and Friday (July 8), when a thief broke into the property in Great Brays and stole a pink Filofax, credit and store cards and a number of personal items.

Graham's plan for Passmores band reunion

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THIS week Nostalgia has received a harmonious request to help bring together former members of the Passmores School band for a reunion.

Percussionist Graham Brown (52), who started his musical days playing a tuba in the school's brass group, sent in this picture in the hope that it may help him to trace some old members.

The photo, taken in 1974, shows the youngsters on the steps of Stavanger Town Hall in Norway during a music trip. They played at several concerts and events around the Scandinavian town.

"The band was started from scratch in late 1970 when new music teacher Dennis Taylor moved to the school and gave its first public performance in February 1971 at a concert given by Netteswell Youth Band at Passmores," said Graham.

"Over the next few years the band quickly grew in numbers and stature. It reached the youth section final of the National Brass Band Championships in London and was selected to give a solo performance at the National Schools Brass Band Association's annual concert at Margate in 1974.

"It was in the summer of 1974 that the band visited Stavanger in Norway, which was Harlow's twin at the time and where the picture was taken. I am third from the back on the left hand side and must have been about 15 years old."

Graham, who lives in Witham, said it was after talking to his ex-teacher Mr Taylor, now aged 85 and living in Sunderland, that the pair decided it was time to arrange a get-together.

"Mr Taylor left the school right after that Norway trip," said Graham, "so a lot of people haven't seen him for almost 37 years.

"The idea of a reunion for the whole group, even those who didn't come on the trip and are not in the picture, came up as we were talking. Ideally we are looking to hold it in September or October in the Harlow area but I am having problems contacting some of the old players.

"I hope through this article some more can be traced."

For more information about the reunion, contact Graham on (01376) 519974.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Regal Cinema

MEMORIES came flooding back for one local film fan when Nostalgia featured a piece about the grand opening of Harlow's Regal Cinema a couple of weeks ago.

Possibly one of the town's most devoted cinema-goers, Doug Ellis (69) brought in this picture of him meeting British actress Diane Hart on that special day back in August 1952.

Doug, who was aged about 10 at the time, says he got to meet the popular film star after being the first resident to get a ticket at the new venue.

"I remember queuing up all day long to get that ticket," he explained. "I ended up being the first one in and got to meet Diane.

"I must have been with my cousin Anne Ellis as she is in the photo – the older girl just to the right of Diane. It was all very exciting at the time and I think this picture was featured in the Harlow Gazette."

● Do you remember visiting the Harlow Regal Cinema or recognise yourself in Doug's picture? Write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

⚡ A warning has gone out to thieves not to use stolen spray paint because it contains dangerous levels of cyanide. About 20 tins of the paint worth £50 each and made for industrial use were taken from R.M. Coachworks over the weekend.

⚡ A mystery fire broke out in the tower next to the aquatubes at Harlow pool. Firefighters believe an extractor fan in the tower burned out setting off the several small fires an hour before the tubes were due to open to the public. However, no damage was caused to the popular water slides.

⚡ The controversial Gilden Way development has been given the go-ahead by members of Harlow Council's planning committee despite over 800 objections from the public. The project will provide more than 1,100 homes including council housing, equity share property and private dwellings.

Refurbished rooms reopened

MORE than 60 supporters and friends of St Clare Hospice attended the grand opening of its newly-refurbished in-patient bedrooms.

Funded by a £396,000 Department of Health grant to improve and enhance the patient environment at the Hastingwood unit, the project began in Autumn last year and has seen new equipment installed in eight redecorated rooms.

Tanya Curry, director of patient care and acting chief executive, said: "Our in-patient bedrooms are used 24 hours a day and have been since they opened 10 years ago.

"The department's grant has enabled us to refurbish all eight rooms, installing the very best in patient equipment and making each one a warm, comfortable and special place for our patients."

She added: "This is work we simply couldn't have undertaken without the grant as we have to work incredibly hard to raise enough funds to keep the hospice running every day.

"The improvements made have enabled the hospice to provide our patients and their families with the very best environment for specialist palliative care."

Panels to be fitted to homes

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

PLANS to install solar panels on almost 1,200 council homes across Harlow have been given the green light by councillors.

The environmentally-friendly initiative was approved by cabinet members at a meeting on Thursday and, according to the authority, could slash tenants' electricity bills by up to £190 a year while reducing the town's annual carbon emissions by 953 tonnes.

The first phase of the scheme will see the energy-saving devices fitted to 1,196 council-owned properties by March 2012, with two further phases of similar size planned for the following year.

The installation and maintenance costs for each of the photovoltaic panels – which will also be fitted to The Latton Bush Centre, Leah Manning Centre and Mead Park Depot – will be met by council maintenance contractor Kier Harlow, with no cost to tenants over the 25-year life of the programme.

The authority will also be paid "roof rent" by the firm, which will recoup its costs through the Government's Feed In Tariff scheme.

Councillor Clive Souter, portfolio holder for housing, told the Star: "This is a very progressive deal for Harlow – it means residents get cheaper bills while we make big cuts in our carbon footprint.

"The important thing is that it has no cost to our tenants. It takes just one day to install panels that will deliver cheap electricity for quarter of a century.

He added: "We plan to use the money Harlow Council earns from this scheme to subsidise other energy-saving initiatives for those housing properties unable to take part.

"The aim is that the majority of our tenants enjoy the solar panel dividend."

Tenants will be consulted by Harlow Council before any work is carried out and the benefits of taking part explained.

Anyone not wanting to be involved will be removed from the project and Kier Harlow will be supplied with alternative addresses.

John Phillips, operations director for Kier Harlow, said: "We are delighted to take part in the first phase of this project and to be rolling it out across Harlow.

"Kier has always been mindful of its carbon footprint and recognises this as a huge opportunity to be involved in."

Sex offender back in court for theft of £400 computer

By COURT REPORTER
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CONVICTED sex offender who was spared jail for two assaults has again avoided a custodial sentence after being found guilty of burgling his next door neighbour.

James Lawson (21), of The Hoo, Harlow, was given a three-month community order after he was found guilty of two offences of assault by penetration committed in July last year.

But Chelmsford Crown Court was told on Thursday that just three months later he committed the burglary during which he stole a £400 laptop computer.

The same judge who imposed the community order with a requirement that Lawson attend a sex offenders programme gave him an eight-month jail sentence suspended for two years for the burglary.

"This was a mean offence but I want you to complete the sex offenders programme," Judge Christopher Ball told Lawson. "If, however, you breach the suspended sentence I will remember you."

The judge also ordered that Lawson should carry out a 15-day education, training and employment programme and be subject to a 9.30pm-2am curfew for three months.

Samantha Lowther, prosecuting, said the burglary victim had made enquiries locally and was told that Lawson had gone into his pub and tried to sell a laptop.

She was suspicious because there was no sign of a break-in and Lawson's mother had a spare key to her flat.

Drink-drive figures tumble

THE number of motorists caught drink-driving in Essex during the police's summer crackdown was 14.7 per cent down on last year.

Of the 2,984 people stopped and breathalysed in the county last month, 110 (3.7 per cent) were found to be over the legal alcohol limit or refused or failed to provide a sample.

Of those, 87 (79 per cent) were men and 23 (21 per cent) were women, while 42 (38 per cent) were under 25 and 68 (62 per cent) were older.

During last summer's anti-drink-drive campaign, which also ran throughout June, 129 were found to be over the limit.

This year, Essex Police made a plea to motorists, their families, friends and members of the public to take responsibility by reporting drink-drivers to them or anonymously to Crimestoppers.

Last year in Essex, 122 people were injured as a result of a motorist under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Adam Pipe, casualty reduction manager for Essex Police, said: "The campaign has clearly highlighted that a small but determined number of people still believe they are above the law and are placing not only themselves but other road users at risk by continuing to drink and drive."

"Disturbingly, a number of road policing operations conducted during the morning rush hour identified a number of drink-drivers. Alarming, some were at the wheel of commercial vehicles used for work purposes."

"The community that we serve must know who these individuals are that continue to flout the law by continuing to drink and drive and we urge the public to use Crimestoppers to inform us of such drivers. Picking up the phone could save a life."

"The summer campaign may have come to an end, but in no way does that signify an end to our efforts to bring drink-drivers to justice. We will not tolerate drink- or drug-drivers in Essex and our officers will continue to take a zero tolerance approach 365 days a year."

Harlow MP Rob Halfon with fellow fuel cost campaigners at No10

MP's fight for fair fuel price

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CAMPAIGN to reduce the spiralling costs of fuel on UK forecourts stepped up a gear on Tuesday, as Harlow MP Rob Halfon joined protestors to push a car along Whitehall.

The Conservative backbencher helped set up the publicity stunt on behalf of pressure group FairFuelUK, which has appointed Mr Halfon as parliamentary spokesman on its fight for fair fuel costs. Joined by fellow MPs Robert Fello, Eilidh Whiteford, Nick Smith, Martin Vickers and Steve Baker, the group's push for lower petrol and diesel prices ended on the front steps of 10 Downing Street where Mr Halfon handed over a letter asking why the recent drop in oil prices had not been matched at the fuel pumps.

The document also demanded the Government take action to pressure oil companies to pass on reductions in the cost of oil and urged Whitehall to abandon or postpone plans to increase fuel duty by up to 4p a litre in January 2012.

Speaking after Tuesday's publicity drive, Mr Halfon told the Star that petrol prices were the "number one issue" in Harlow.

"The cost of oil has plummeted, but pump prices are still too high," he said.

"The Government needs to abandon its plan to increase fuel duty in January, and must put pressure on oil companies to pass on reductions in the price of oil."

He added: "The pain that we have felt symbolically pushing this car today is nothing compared to the misery that high fuel prices are causing in Britain."

"We have to keep fuel costs down to get the economy moving again."

Peter Carroll of FairFuelUK added that the cost of fuel was so high that even the Treasury was beginning to suffer.

"High fuel taxes have reduced demand which means that the Treasury is actually collecting less revenue – this risks becoming the economics of the mad house," he said.

New signs pointing the way to town's fascinating history

NEW signs pointing the way to Harlow's fascinating past have been installed at key historical locations across the town this week. The 15 "monoliths", each carrying an image and information about the area or event commemorated, are designed to show visitors and residents that Harlow's New Town status is not its only claim to fame.

Historic areas celebrated include Potter Street, home to the pottery trade since Roman times; Netteswellbury, a parish that can trace its origins back to 1060; and Mulberry Green, a coaching inn stop on the 19th-century London to Norwich coach route.

Other signs mark locations of more recent historical interest, including two benches at the corner of Hamstel and Hodings Roads used as a meeting place for an RAF officer-turned-spy and his Russian KGB handler.

Funding for the project – a collaboration between Harlow Council, Harlow Renaissance and the town's Civic Society – has come from the Government through its Growth Area Funding scheme.

Councillor Russell Perrin, portfolio holder for regeneration and enterprise, said:

"Harlow is obviously best known for its status as a New Town, but there is a wealth of historical detail that visitors, and indeed some residents, might not know."

"This network has been carefully chosen to mark different facets of the town's past."

HARE STREET PRIMARY:

Youngsters will soon be getting in touch with their inner zen after the final touches to their Chinese garden were made by a local graffiti artist.

David Nash, a former pupil of the Little Groves Field school, spent several hours creating a Chinese willow pattern design in the garden to finish off the project.

The school is twinned with another in China where students have similarly created an English garden. International co-ordinator Tracy Mehmet, pictured above with David, said: "He has done an absolutely brilliant job and everyone is very impressed. We really appreciate all his time and work helping us to complete the Chinese garden.

"The children are very proud of what they have achieved and absolutely love working in it and using it. It looks fantastic."

STEWARDS Model racers were quick off the mark when they entered their kit-made chariots into a regional contest.

Five pupils from the Parnall Road school split into two teams – Phoenix Knights and Phoenix Daze – before taking part in the Selex Galileo Rampaging Chariot Competition at Basildon.

Competing in three events – the assault course, sumo and football – the youngsters performed well and one of them, Tyler Hampson, recorded the fastest timed assault course result in the history of the contest.

Science technician Andrew Young said he was very proud of the students.

"It was a great day and we all really enjoyed it," he said.

"I must add a special congratulations to Tyler for achieving his track record. He completed the assault course event in 28 seconds where most teams are satisfied with a minute. It was incredible!"

HARLOW FIELDS Despite a forecast of rain, even the sun decided to join the fun when children, staff and parents raised almost £300 at the Tending Road school's annual fair.

Attractions included a miniature train set covering the entire school hall and guests from Pets' Corner ranging from lizards, snakes to guinea pigs. Visitors were also able to try their hand at various games stall and take part in an African drum workshop.

Lesley Stevens, co-vice chairman of the parents and teachers association, said it had been a really successful event.

"We had a constant flow of people right from when the gates opened to when everyone was packing away for the day," she said.

"The children particularly enjoyed all the individual activities and everyone has said what a good day they had."

The 3D printer that can create chocolate treats

IT may sound like one of Willy Wonka's wacky inventions, but machines which can print chocolate could one day be available on the high street!

A 3D printer that uses layers of chocolate instead of ink or plastic has just been built by scientists at the University of Exeter – and several shops have already expressed an interest in selling a mass-produced version in the future.

3D printing of plastic and metal is already widely used by some firms to speed up design work, but this gadget could take the technology out of the factory and into people's homes.

Lead scientist Dr Liang Hao said the printing process began with a flat image similar to those that ordinary printers produce.

"Then you do a 3D shape, layer by layer and, and print chocolate instead of ink, as if you were layering 2D paper to form a 3D shape," he told reporters.

The machine would allow users to design almost anything on their computer before hitting the print button and watching their tasty creation appear before their eyes.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20 After the tensions at the end of last month caused by Pluto, this week it goes face to face with the sultry Venus. And however much someone tells you that they fancy you or how much money they're going to make for you, be cautious. Their charm may hide an agenda. Someone at home may crave your attention or need soothing. Call now for your love scope in full...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23 If you've met someone new and rather exciting, your natural reaction may be to want to introduce them to your folks, yet you'd be better off delaying this. What this week can be perfect for is planning any part of your life that you want to open up. Higher education or vocational courses can see you do well. A new job can also be in the offing. Call for more...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21 Your desire to lead a more open and more liberated existence may be causing inner tensions. These may not be easy to put your finger on, more a sense of slight unease or nervousness. Yet one person, or one conversation at the start of this week can give you greater optimism, though this is a week to be more careful with money. Call now for your financial scope in full...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22 You could find yourself fascinated by one person. This may not be romantic though, you might just love them for their ideas. Yet be wary of putting anyone on a pedestal. A past contact through work can however get in touch, and they can prove invaluable. A skill you learnt long ago can also be helpful - if you are searching for a new job. Call me for more...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21 Mars is giving you enormous drive, but this can be a planet which sees us start lots of things, but not necessarily finish them. Yet this shouldn't be a problem for you now, when the creative things you do can stand the test of time. In love, think carefully about an email or text you receive. Someone may be masking how much they care. Call for your love scope in full...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23 The Sun is powering forwards in Cancer, urging you to show drive around your major hopes. Yet Venus, also in Cancer, is in a tight angle with two planets, and there may be someone in the family that needs your support, just at the point when you want to concentrate most on your own needs. A friend can however, prove to be a rock. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20 Passions can be raised as Venus and Pluto go face to face. Manipulation can be a factor with this influence, so be conscious of your own motives - as well as those of someone you like. Yet the potency of this and the influence of lucky Jupiter may bring someone special into your life. The trick is in tuning into how someone really feels. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23 Over the last year or so there have been times when you have felt people have been closed to your ideas. Even your usual ways of cultivating every day chat, have at times met with blank looks. Yet after months of this week can see a conversation where someone accepts what you say at face value. Love however, can have a deeper undertone. Call for your love scope in full...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19 If you are planning to go on holiday with a partner or good friend, things can be tied up at the start of the week. This can be an auspicious time for the things you hold dear, and after months of this week can see a breakthrough is possible. If you have children, their sporting or creative talents can delight. Yet a love secret can leak out. Call now for more news and advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23 This continues to be a time when you need to 'manage' your social life and time spent with friends. If this sounds rather too ordered, even for a Virgo, it's because you're set to be in demand. Financially, even a smidgen of research can pay off with some easing up in your cash flow. Don't hold back from digging out bargains. Call for your financial forecast in full...

True Dickens with a Twist in the tale

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
 chris.moss@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

THE timeless tale of Oliver Twist will be brought to life at Victoria Hall Theatre next week when Harlow Theatre Company presents a spectacular new stage version of the Dickens classic.

The compelling saga of a young orphan's journey from the workhouse to redemption set against a backdrop of great social change has inspired several different adaptations for stage and screen over the years, with HTC choosing to stage a dramatic version instead of the hit West End musical.

Although the play won't feature any of the well-loved musical numbers now synonymous with the tale, director Kyle Jagers told the Star his production would remain truer to Dickens' original as a result.

"Oliver Twist was Charles Dickens' second book and it was, for most people, an insight into his earlier life," he said.

"Instead of clouding some of the hard-hitting messages of the novel with song and dance routines, in directing this version of the story I want to highlight themes of poverty, domestic violence, criminality, mental health and physical abuse - all of which remain resonant today."

With a cast of 30, including HTC stalwart Steve Foster as Fagin, panto regular Lee Pace as Bill Sykes and Kye Oliver as the eponymous hero, Kye said rehearsals had been both challenging and rewarding.

"The cast have been very patient with me and I believe that as an ensemble we all work together well," he added.

"There are some great things happening in the show. It has lots of light and shade, with a touch of real darkness in places, and we hope audiences will enjoy the show and remember it for a long time."

Oliver Twist opens at Victoria Hall Theatre in Bury Road, Old Harlow, on Wednesday (July 20) and runs until Saturday, July 23.

Performances begin at 7.30pm, with a Saturday matinee at 3pm. Tickets priced £10 (£8 concessions) are available now by calling the HTC box office on (01279) 420062 or 07973 679364.

Punchy, provocative and powerful

REVIEW

The Booty
 Moot House Players, Moot Hall, The Stow

uncomfortable viewing. It was testament to the skill of both director Michael Branwell and a solid cast and crew that this punchy production remained accessible and entertaining throughout.

The ever-impressive Claire Quiley excelled in the central role of elective mute Ghanima, a young woman who has been all but silenced by the horrific sexual abuse she has been forced to endure at the hands of the militia.

Communicating exclusively with the audience through a series of otherworldly, candlelit monologues, Quiley brought a palpable sense of wide-eyed terror to a challenging part and was entirely believable as the broken, emotionally-crippled "booty" of the title.

Her principal tormentor - slimy minister for family affairs Eddine Al-Khaddi - was played with leering menace by Geoff Leeds, the MHP chairman bringing a schizophrenic explosiveness to his character's skewed sense of legislated morality, none more so than in the electrifying exchanges with Ghanima in the final act.

Elsewhere, a brilliantly brusque Rosalind Barron was pitch-perfect as determined TV reporter Frances Ludlow, Monica Albinson brought real warmth to the part of Ghanima's mother, world-weary widow Khedouma, and Bridget McAlpine provided flashes of humour in the unrelenting darkness as resolute, enlightened family friend Sonia.

Provocative, harrowing and demanding of both cast and audience, The Booty is an emotionally-draining drama rooted in an unsettling reality. Moot House Players deserve great credit for daring to tackle such an important and serious piece of theatre.

>>variety Talented students from the Kevin Adams Academy strut their stuff on the Playhouse stage tonight (Thursday). The celebrity dance instructor's performing arts school has gone from strength to strength since opening at Passmore School in 2009 and tonight's showcase will give members the chance to show off their abilities in front of a theatre audience. The performance starts at 7pm and tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions). Tomorrow (Friday) night's 7.30pm show is already sold out.

>>children Roary The Racing Car screeches into Harlow this weekend with a new live stage show. It's the day of the Champion of Champions race at Silver Hatch and Roary is set to battle it out with Maxi, Cici and all the other characters from the hit children's TV show for the trophy. Big Chris seems more interested in stuffing his face with pizza and doughnuts than preparing the cars, but luckily Marsha Marshall is on hand to make sure everyone is ready for the main event. The show is on Saturday and Sunday afternoon, with performances starting at 1pm and 3.30pm. Tickets cost £13.50 (£11.50 concessions) and £44 for a family ticket (two adults and two children).

>>dance The Central School of Dance & Drama present dazzling new show Dance Bravura from next Thursday. Following on from the success of their previous shows China Kaleidoscope and Dance Genesis, the acclaimed troupe promise to put on another spectacular performance featuring breathtaking new routines. The show runs until Saturday (July 23) and performances start at 7.30pm (2pm Saturday matinee). Tickets cost £12 (£10 concessions).

Not a dry eye as Harry checks out of Hogwarts

certificate 12A, 2h 10m

ALMOST 10 years after the cinema release of Harry Potter And The Philosopher's Stone, the most financially successful film franchise in history reaches its tragic and spectacular conclusion.

Millions of readers, who nervously turned the pages of JK Rowling's final tome in summer 2007, already know the narrative twists that lie ahead for Harry (Daniel Radcliffe), Ron (Rupert Grint) and Hermione (Emma Watson).

There may be no dramatic tension, but that's of little consequence to ardent fans because David Yates's hugely entertaining adaptation of Harry Potter And The Deathly Hallows: Part 2 bids fond farewell to characters who have grown up before our eyes.

The final chapter rests heavily on the shoulders of Radcliffe and while he has improved as an actor, he still doesn't possess the emotional range or vulnerability to provide a strong connection to Harry's grief.

Thankfully, Radcliffe's woodenness cannot wreck one of the film's best scenes – a sombre reunion with lost friends in The Forbidden Forest.

Watson and Grint shine in their few scenes including that long-awaited kiss, and both sob convincingly as the teenage wizards come to terms with the enormity of their loss.

The ticket levy for 3D, coupled with our nostalgia, will ensure that Harry Potter And The Deathly Hallows: Part 2 becomes the most successful film of the long-running saga.

It may not be the best film of the series – that honour still belongs to Alfonso Cuarón's stunning Harry Potter And The Prisoner Of Azkaban, which plumbed the dark, foreboding undercurrents of JK Rowling's writing with flair.

The film opens with Voldemort (Ralph Fiennes) stealing the powerful Elder Wand from Dumbledore's grave, which he will use to slay Harry.

Dastardly acolytes Bellatrix Lestrange (Helena Bonham Carter) and Lucius Malfoy (Jason Isaacs) press forward with their diabolical plans, while Severus Snape (Alan Rickman) fills the vacant post of headmaster at Hogwarts.

Elsewhere, Harry, Ron and Hermione continue their mission to track down the final Horcruxes, which contain fragments of Voldemort's blackened soul.

The quest leads to Hogwarts where fellow students Neville Longbottom (Matthew Lewis), Luna Lovegood (Evanna Lynch) and Ginny Weasley (Bonnie Wright) are ready to lay down their lives to protect Harry from Death Eaters including Draco Malfoy (Tom Felton) and his Slytherin sidekicks.

Harry Potter And The Deathly Hallows: Part 2 builds relentlessly to the final battle at Hogwarts, which is brilliantly realised with a seamless conflation of live action and dazzling digital trickery.

An attempted break-in at Gringotts Wizarding Bank introduces the blind dragon which guards the Lestrange Vault and the search for Rowena Ravenclaw's lost diadem in the Room of Requirement is similarly thrilling.

Aside from the central trio, the third film belongs to Lewis as heroic Neville and to Rickman's treacherous teacher, whose tragic history is revealed in a heartbreaking Pensieve flashback.

The coda, taken directly from Rowling's book, is an unintentionally hilarious misstep courtesy of unconvincing ageing make-up.

Giggles aside, there will be few dry eyes when the end credits roll.

>>still on screen

Larry Crowne After being made redundant from his job at a superstore, former Navy man Larry Crowne (Tom Hanks) decides to broaden his skills base by enrolling for public speaking classes at East Valley Community College. Arriving late on his first day, Larry meets feisty teacher Mercedes Tainot (Roberts), who is stuck in an unfulfilling marriage to her husband, Dean (Bryan Cranston). With encouragement from classmate Talia (Cugu Mbatha-Raw), and next-door neighbours Lamar (Cedric The Entertainer) and B'Ella (Taraji P Henson), Larry musters the courage to ask Mercedes to join him on his haphazard journey of self-discovery.

Transformers: Dark of the Moon When a Cybertronian spacecraft crash-lands on the Moon in the early 1960s, the crew of Apollo 11 retrieves an important Autobot artefact and returns it to Earth, unaware that the device will spark a titanic war with the Decepticons more than 40 years later. Sam Witwicky (Shia LaBeouf) is caught in the eye of the storm, joined by girlfriend Carly (Rosie Huntington-Whiteley). While Optimus Prime (voiced by Peter Cullen), Bumblebee and the other Autobots protect the humans, field commanders Major Lennox (Josh Duhamel) and Master Sergeant Epps (Tyrese Gibson) spearhead the final stand against the Decepticons.

Bridesmaids Annie (Kristen Wiig) used to own her own bakery but has now fallen on hard times and works as a jewellery saleswoman. Best friend Lillian (Maya Rudolph) reveals she is getting married and asks a clearly delighted Annie to be maid of honour. Without two dimes to rub together, organising a bridal shower to remember will be tricky for Annie, especially as one of the bridesmaids is socialite wife Helen (Rose Byrne), who splashes the cash as if it is going out of fashion. Fellow bridesmaids Megan (Melissa McCarthy), Becca (Elle Kemper) and Rita (Wendi McLendon-Covey) witness the fallout as Annie and Helen vie for Lillian's affections.

Kung Fu Panda 2 (3D & 2D) Overweight panda Po (voiced by Jack Black) is living his dream as an all-action bear, honing his skills under the watchful eye of mentor Shifu (Dustin Hoffman). However, he is haunted by fragmented memories which eventually reveal how his father came to be a goose called Mr Ping (James Wong). It transpires that an evil peacock Lord Shen (Gary Oldman) is the cause of Po's deep emotional wounds. Spurred on by a dire warning about pandas from an elderly soothsayer, Shen and his army of snarling wolves are on a collision course with Po. Thankfully, Po can rely on the Furious Five.

>>movies for juniors

Alpha and Omega Kate is an alpha wolf who must marry another alpha to honour her father Winston, the pack leader. In secret, he has promised Kate to Garth, the son of Eastern pack leader Tony, in the hope that their marriage will unite the two tribes. But Kate and best friend Humphrey embark on an epic road trip when they are relocated.

Turtle's Tale A greenback sea turtle called Sammy proudly looks back on his life. He takes us back to the late 1950s, when the young Sammy emerged into the world on a Californian beach and struggled to clamber out of the egg chamber. He discovers the love of his life, the beautiful Shelly, only to lose her to the strong tides. Drifting on the currents, he meets a leatherback turtle called Ray and they become best friends.

Stunning extended family home

coverproperty

Location Old Road, Old Harlow

Category Four-bed detached

Additional Two en suites, three reception rooms, large lounge, quiet location

Guide price £560,000

Agent Haart, 4 West Gate, The High, Harlow. Telephone (01279) 443311

TUCKED away in a quiet cul-de-sac within the former Harlowbury Manor Estate, Curteys is a stunning, extended family home in Old Road, Old Harlow.

The detached property has four bedrooms – two with en-suites – a luxury re-fitted bathroom, three reception rooms, a re-fitted kitchen, utility room, downstairs cloakroom and a large lounge.

Curteys is within easy access of Harlow Mill station as well as local schools and shops.

The entrance hallway has a tiled floor and stairs rising to the first floor. There is a ground floor cloakroom and a door giving entry to the large lounge has two double glazed windows to the side and inset spotlights in the ceiling.

The dining room has double glazed windows to the front and back. There are also French doors to the garden and wood flooring.

A breakfast room also has double doors into the garden and a door leading through to the kitchen which overlooks the back garden. It features a range of wall and base units, an integrated four-ring hob with oven and hood, integrated microwave, fridge, freezer and dishwasher.

There are more wall and base units in the utility room as well as space for a washing machine and tumble drier.

Upstairs, the master bedroom has fitted furniture and an en-suite shower room. Bedroom two also has fitted wardrobes and an en-suite shower room, while bedrooms three and four overlook the back garden. There is also a family bathroom with spa bath.

The back garden has a patio area with the remainder laid to lawn. There are flower borders and side pedestrian access, a side garden which is laid to paving with a timber shed and enclosed by fencing.

The front driveway has parking for a number of vehicles.

Call Haart on (01279) 443311 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

COLVERS, at Matching Green, is a semi-detached home which has been extended to provide versatile accommodation, part of which could be used as an annexe for an elderly relative or teenager.

There is a formal sitting room, kitchen/dining room, TV/family room, study/bedroom four and a shower room. Upstairs there are three bedrooms and a separate bathroom.

The gardens are a good size and the house is walking distance of the village green.

Contact Howick & Brooker on (01279) 418888 for more details.

Guide price of £189,995

THIS well-proportioned, semi detached property in Mallards Rise, Harlow, is for sale chain-free.

There are two bedrooms, one of which has built-in wardrobes. The lounge/diner is a generous size with laminate flooring, a storage cupboard and French doors to the rear and an archway into the kitchen.

To the front of the house there is a lawn and a driveway to the side. The back garden is mostly laid to lawn with a patio area.

Geoffrey Matthews Estates can arrange a viewing for you on (01279) 444988.

Yours for £159,995

WITH two bedrooms, off-street parking and a delightful back garden, this property in Church Leys, Harlow, is certainly worth viewing.

The house has been refurbished throughout and now has gas heating and double glazing. There is a modern kitchen, lounge, contemporary bathroom and two double bedrooms.

The back garden is laid to lawn with a patio area, flowerbeds, shrubs and a brick-built shed

The house is available with no chain through Sapphire estate agents on (01279) 408688.

On the market for £289,995

THIS delightful house in Springhall Road, Sawbridgeworth, has solar panels which supply its renewable energy system.

The very large back garden, offers plenty of potential to extend, and there is allocated parking.

There are three bedrooms and this type of semi-detached property rarely comes on to the market. There is no onward chain.

The house is just a short walk to the town centre. Call Mackay Property on (01279) 600567 for full details.

IF you're one of the lucky ones who managed to jump through the seemingly endless round of hoops to secure tickets for the 2012 Olympic Games, no doubt you'll be counting down the days until this time next year when the big event opens in Stratford.

If, on the other hand, you'd rather be anywhere but the UK for this two-week sporting extravaganza, then you could always take a holiday and let your house work for you while you're away.

A local estate agent claims homeowners could make thousands of pounds by renting out their property during, and in the period leading up to, the 2012 Olympics.

Millions of visitors are expected to come to London and short-term accommodation and holiday lettings will be in strong demand. London will have approximately 100,000 hotel rooms as well as university and college halls of residences and other student accommodation, but the majority of visitors to the Games may opt for private, short-term rentals not only in Stratford but across London and into the Herts and Essex patch.

Airport Lettings is the official lettings partner for the Herts Is Ready For Winners organisation run by Herts County Council for the 2012 Olympics. Managing director, Terry Farthing points out that there are 17 pre-games training camps across the local area for Olympic and Paralympic teams and committees from around the world are deciding where to train before the Games begin.

"This is your chance to enjoy a Wimbledon moment and cash in on your home for a few weeks," says Terry. "At the Vancouver winter Olympics some homeowners were charging £5,000 a week for an average four-bedroom house and there is no reason why local residents can't make that and more".

If you can bear to tear yourself away from the UK as it plays host to the Olympics for the first time since 1948, this might be worth considering.

Nissan's compact crossover

Nissan Juke (£13,295 - £20,595)

THE Nissan Juke is unlike anything the market has yet seen – part SUV, part sports coupe, part hot hatch with a few bike and rally car genes thrown in for good measure.

It sounds an unpromising mix but, against the odds, it works. Even before this car's launch in the autumn of last year Nissan had already sold 30,000 Jukes to customers who hadn't even sat in one.

The Juke represents Nissan's next step along the path to 'crossover' market domination, this time aimed at people who would normally be looking at a small car.

So it has the SUV-ness you'll find in the littlest off-roaders mixed with the sort of supermini sensibilities that might appeal particularly to the kind of extrovert style-conscious small car buyers who'd otherwise be considering something like a Citroen DS3, a Kia Soul or a MINI.

And that means it has got to handle. Which is quite an ask for something nearly 1.6m in height and weighing the best part of 1.5 tons.

Still, as you begin to realise when throwing this Juke around the country lanes, the cleverness of modern engineering means that unpromising statistics like these can still be converted into a car that delivers a satisfying steer.

Nissan has had to adopt a pretty stiff set-up to make it all work but it's a bearable compromise, creating a car that rides not too badly around town and rolls little through tighter bends. And you can adjust its demeanour to suit either environment thanks to the switchable Eco, Normal and Sport modes.

Sport, as you might expect, offers weightier steering and sharper throttle response while Eco introduces a throttle remap so you get less go for a given throttle opening.

This car really does drive as its looks suggest it should, which is just as well given that the top version has a 1.6-litre turbocharged DiG-T petrol engine good for 0-60 in just eight seconds on the way to a top speed 134mph.

But the majority of Juke models are sold with less frantic powerplants – either a 1.6-litre petrol version with the same torque as the turbo or a 1.5-litre dCi diesel, both capable 0-60 in around 11s on the way to about 110mph.

In neither case can you opt for 4WD, which seems a bit odd when this car's big wheels and tall stance seem to suggest to all the world that it's just completed a stage of the Paris-Dakar Rally. In fact, Nissan's ALL MODE 4x4-i system is only available at the top of the range where it partners the petrol turbo engine.

Whether you like its looks or not, what you can't deny is that this car makes more of a design statement than any other family-friendly five-door you can buy for sensible money.

Stylistically, it's a tale of two halves – the bottom section of the car is all-

SUV with its bulging wheel arches and lower bodywork that emerges from underneath resembling underbody protection, while above the waistline the sports car DNA shines through, almost as if Nissan had bolted the top half of its GTR super coupe to the bottom half of a Qashqai Crossover and shrunk the resulting concoction in the wash. It's just as interesting inside.

Though there are no expensive soft-touch plastics used, you don't really notice such is the design exuberance.

Take the centre console from which the gear lever protrudes, modelled to resemble the top of a superbike's fuel tank and finished in either red or grey high gloss paint. The instruments, too, resemble a bike's, with twin clocks shrouded by heavy cowls.

Even the door armrests, shaped like flippers used by scuba divers, are supposed to reflect an active outlook.

As a driver, you sit higher up than in an ordinary supermini which helps when parking, the wing-top lights at each corner of the bonnet acting as good positioning guides. And it's reasonably easy to get comfortable, a height-adjustable seat compensating for the fact that the leather-covered wheel adjusts only for height, not for reach.

At the back, the rear door handles are disguised in an attempt to create a coupe-like look and once you use them, the door openings are a little narrow. Once inside though, you'll find that the dimensions

Nissan has chosen, which see this car very slightly longer and wider than a conventional supermini, certainly create something that a small family could live with.

As for the boot, lift the tailgate with its integral fabric parcel shelf and you'll find a 207-litre luggage area with a further 44-litres available on 2WD models in an underfloor storage area. If that's not enough, then pushing forward the 60:40 split-folding rear bench opens up a flat 830-litre loading space.

Nissan would like you to see this car as a cross between a 4x4 and sport scar, a macho alternative to a supermini for youthful urban motorists, roomy yet compact, robust yet dynamic and practical yet playful.

The Juke is certainly all of these things. True, it won't appeal to everyone but that's because it isn't supposed to. If you love it, you'll really love it. But even if the opposite is true, you have to admire Nissan for having the courage to do something different.

At a stroke it makes other supposedly 'funky' small cars – the Kia Soul, the Toyota Urban Cruiser, even the Mini – look rather dull and compromised.

Here at last is SUV-like style for the small car sector without any SUV-like compromises, precisely the same trick the company's bigger Qashqai model pulled off in targeting bigger family-sized models in the larger market segment above.

ASX- The new crossover from Mitsubishi Just the right size to...

Big enough for a horde of excitable kids, yet small enough to cope with rush hour, the new ASX has been designed for real people with real lives. At home on city streets or open country roads, the higher driving position, class-leading interior space and assured handling have been intelligently packaged to create an agile and versatile family car. And the low CO₂ engines, Auto Stop & Go, energy efficient tyres and advanced alternator control will reduce the size of your carbon footprint, saving you money to spend on living. We call this intelligent Motion.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Develop and Grow with us

Media Sales Consultant

Herts & Essex Newspapers has gained an excellent reputation for delivering quality news coverage and advertising that produces real results for our highly valued customers.

We are now looking to recruit a Media Sales Consultant in Hertford.

This would best suit someone with previous sales experience, although applications from outgoing, confident individuals who are well organised, professional and keen to develop their sales skills would be welcome.

Full and ongoing training will be provided, but you will need to be focused on delivering high standards of customer service and representing our business with people at all levels.

We pride ourselves on recruiting and developing the best people and offer a competitive salary, company car plus generous bonus structure. (realistic OTE £20k including bonus)

We offer 25 days holiday per year, on the job support and training and career development programme within one of the country's leading media businesses.

For an application pack please contact
Nicole Want - P.A. to the Managing Director - via nicole.want@hertssexnews.co.uk

It is the company's policy to welcome applications from any individual regardless of ethnic origin, gender, disability, religious belief, sexual orientation or age. All applications will be considered on merit.

Herts & Essex Newspapers Ltd is publisher of the area's leading newspapers, and is part of Iliffe News & Media East. Out titles include The Hertfordshire Mercury Series and Bishops Hartford Observer Series as well as a wide range of free weekly newspapers such as the Harlow Star and North Herts Advertiser Series. We also publish magazines and a suite of websites across Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire and Essex

C# ASP .NET Developers Required

Lorenzbergs are a leading software house supplying products for the academic and public sector based in Hertford. Recent expansion has led to a number of vacancies for C# ASP.NET Developers (£38-45k) including a Lead Developer role (£45-60k).

Successful candidates will have a computer science (or related) degree and should be well versed in the following areas:

- C# .NET and ASP.NET development (3yrs preferred)
- SQL Server
- Object Orientated Design
- Enterprise Application Design

This is an excellent opportunity to join a market leading organisation that utilise the latest technologies and development techniques.

Interested? Please send CV and covering letter to:
james.entwistle@lorenzbergs.com

Electronics Design Engineers

We are a leading manufacturer of radio fire alarm systems with over 30 years experience and in order to fulfill our expansion plans and maintain our position at the leading edge of technology we need:

Senior Engineer to 45K+Benefits

A graduate with at least 4 years experience in 'C' based micro-processor based systems and analogue technologies, ideally at RF. You would be expected to manage, hands-on, a development project from initial conception through to production and be capable of overseeing all aspects of engineering and quality.

Engineer to 35K+Benefits

A graduate familiar with hardware design, embedded processor techniques and programming in 'C' is required to complement our development team.

Working from purpose built premises in a friendly environment, prospects are excellent for the right candidates in this expanding company. If you feel you can work in this challenging and varied role, send your CV or telephone for an application form to:

STANSTED AIRPORT AIRSIDE

From £7.00 PH + benefits + free food on your shift!
We're sure you'll have seen a YO! Sushi kitchen before. You know the exciting place in the middle of the conveyor belt where lots of tasty dishes are lovingly and skillfully prepared. This is your chance to enter the circle of trust and show us what you've got. Fresh fish isn't the only thing on the menu either. It's an environment where there's an incredible amount to learn, see and do. And in return for your dazzling contribution, we'll give you a clear path up the YO! Sushi ladder, together with a tasty salary and benefits package. Interested? Here's what we'd like you to do:

- Make the customers happy by giving them what they want – and more
- Be clean, organised and meticulous to the point of obsession
- Be happy and pleasant to work with – not too much to ask
- Be funky (we're not sure what this means but it sounds good)
- Experience working in a similar role
- A customer focus, remembering that the guy on the other side pays all our wages
- A nice cool head even when things are manically busy
- A good team spirit – it makes everyone's life easier

If you're interested, then get stuck in. Drop us a line and we'll get things moving faster than one of our lunchtime shifts. You must be eligible to work in the UK and have previous 5 years of unbroken references to qualify for an Airside pass. Please send your CV to yo.stansted@yosushi.com

Keeper rejects HTFC to rejoin Stortford

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman has missed out on signing experienced stopper Nicky Eyre.

Eyre had agreed to join Conference South side Chelmsford City, but has now done a U-turn and will re-join Bishop's Stortford for their first ever season in the Conference North.

Eyre had had three spells at Stortford and spent much of last season at AFC Sudbury, playing at Barrows Farm in Harlow's 1-0 win over the Suffolk side in October.

Chapman was hoping to bring in the former St Albans custodian after losing both Elliott Justham and James Hasell.

The Harlow boss spoke to Eyre this week, but the stopper has decided to return to Woodside Park, despite the incredible amount of travelling they will endure next term.

"Nicky had left Chelmsford but he has already signed for Bishop's Stortford," explained Chapman.

Hawks are also giving a trial to ex-Ware, Cheshunt and Hertford stopper Ashley Harris, who was released by Harlow last season.

It is unlikely winger Loui Riddle will return next season, Chapman revealed.

He suffered a career-threatening double leg fracture when playing for Harlow at Maldon & Tiptree last season.

Batsman stars for leaders in derby win

RAMYA Upadhyay was Harlow Town's matchwinner as the Herts & Essex Cricket League division one pacesetters stayed top with a win on Saturday.

Upadhyay's 75 not out helped Town complete a five-wicket win at Nazeing Common.

Town posted 187 after an 88-run fourth-wicket stand between Upadhyay and Ashley Alderson (49).

The visitors also bowled well after stand-in skipper Scott Alderson won the toss and decided to field.

Town had Nazeing on the backfoot early with Dan Calver (4-32) taking two quick wickets.

All catches offered were taken as Nazeing were dismissed for 186. Michael Blair top scored with 68.

Town lost both opening batsmen early. Upadhyay and Alderson got them back on track and Darryl Pettengell (38 including three sixes) put Town in the box seat.

Upadhyay hit the winning runs just as heavy rain arrived.

In division two, the rain meant Bilal Ali's 98 was in vain as Harlow Town II's match v Birchanger (125-3) was abandoned. Town had scored 254-6.

Dave Bailey hit his first ever ton as Harlow Town III (223-6) bt Dunmow III (55) by 168 runs in division five.

Other results:- div three - Potter Street I (194) bt Braughing (177-9) by 17 runs; div seven - Harlow Town IV (134) lost to Langley II (179) by 35 runs.

Ladies hit top form

GIRL power shone through as Harlow's ladies dominated the High Ongar 10K race.

Harlow Running Club's women's team finished in the first three places.

First home, and 13th overall, was Louise Brass in a superb 41 mins 26 secs.

She was followed by Dionne Jones (30th) and 1st Vet 35 in 44.40) and Vicky Steadman (50th in 47.10).

First Harlow runner to finish was Jamie Jephcott in 6th place in an excellent 39:37.

He was followed home by John Tennant (18th and 2nd Vet 60 in 42:36) and Daniel Jephcott (53rd and 3rd junior in 47:30). Other results: Matt Jones 78th 49:52; Derek Seymour 85th 50:46; Anne Kleijwegt 127th 54:51.

Medal bonanza for young star

REBECCA Howlett came away from the Midlands area taekwondo competition with two gold medals and a silver.

The Harlow TAGB taekwondo club player achieved first place in the individual patterns, silver in the individual sparring and gold in the team sparring.

Mick Sullivan, a 3rd dan instructor at the Harlow club, said: "This is a tremendous achievement for such a young student. She is a great asset to the Harlow TAGB Tigers club, showing commitment and dedication at all times."

"I'm very proud of her and look forward to celebrating many more successful achievements

with her in the future."

Rebecca has been a junior TAGB Tiger member for just over a year and has shown great enthusiasm for the martial arts. Meanwhile, Sullivan has taken over as chief instructor at Harlow TAGB (Tae Kwon Do Association of Great Britain), which is based at Passmore's School, from Colin Mowatt. Mowatt, who helped form the club, will only be based at the Stortford headquarters of the club in the future. Classes at Passmore are on Mondays and Wednesdays at 7.30pm.

Bottoms up!

Harlow suffer shock defeat to basement side

LUKE Heskett slammed his side's 'incredibly poor' batting as Harlow lost two spot after suffering a second defeat in three division two matches.

Bottom-of-the-table Hutton shocked Harlow by sealing a 74-run win at Marigolds on Saturday, their first victory of the season.

"The batting was incredibly poor. They came here with nothing to lose and bowled well, but the majority of our batsman played bad shots to get out," fumed skipper Heskett.

Fielding first, Harlow's bowlers performed well with Andy McGarry and Nicky Baxter standing out, taking 2-27 and 3-37 respectively.

OUT: Ahmed Khawaja heads back to the pavilion as Hutton celebrate (HSP0752902)

The visitors were struggling at 101-7, but Nick Vanner's impressive 51 took them to a competitive 174 all out.

Ahmed Khawaja took two wickets for 30 runs.

But in reply, only tail-enders Baxter (18) and McGarry (18) could emerge with any credit.

The hosts were 68-9 until Baxter and McGarry's 10th-wicket partnership secured a degree of respectability.

But ultimately it was in vain as Harlow were blown away for just 100.

Rob Whelen (4-19) was Hutton's most successful wicket-taker, removing all of Harlow's

Heskett warned his troops: "To lose top spot may be a wake-up call to any that thought promotion was already achieved and to lose at home is bitterly disappointing."

"We have to focus on each week as it comes and forget the eventual league result and focus on each individual match."

"We face Wickford away next week which will be a very tough test."

Club mourn death of former player

HARLOW Cricket Club is mourning the death of Frank Debnam at 93.

An outstanding cricketer for the Marigolds club in the early 1950s and 60s, he also played for various other local teams such as AEI and Sunvic.

He also had some second XI games with Essex just after the Second World War.

Club president Alan Howick said: "Debnam had many outstanding performances with both bat and ball, including many scores between 50 and early hundreds and it seemed regularly he would take five or more wickets with the ball."

"In his latter years he was seen frequently watching cricket at Marigolds, but he always kept himself to himself but with a bit of prodding he would tell his stories of cricket over the years in and around Harlow."

In the early 50s, Debnam tried to break into professional cricket, but to no avail.

His funeral is on Wednesday July 20 with a celebration of his life back at Marigolds. All former cricketers and friends of Debnam are welcome by his family and Harlow Cricket Club.

Boss' top start

Meanwhile, Harlow have been handed two tough away trips in their quest to reach the second qualifying round of the FA Cup.

The Hawks will visit one of two Eastern Counties League premier division sides in the preliminary round on September 3.

They will play either Woodbridge (Suffolk) or Gorleston (Norfolk).

If they win this game they will visit Suffolk side Bury Town - who were Ryman premier division play-off losers last term - in the first qualifying round on September 17.

"We've got [potentially] a couple of journeys which we are looking forward to. Bury were third in the premier last season. That would be a hard game," the Hawks boss said.

Harlow will visit Ryman rivals Concord Rangers, managed by ex-Hawks ace Danny Cowley, in the first qualifying round of the FA Trophy on October 22.

"That's an Essex derby. We have some good games to look forward to. We want to play against the better sides, but the league is the priority next season," added Chapman.

Bauer's back!

Essex call-up for athlete after season best throw

DAVE Bauer shattered his season best at the grand age of 45 on Saturday – and earned a call-up to represent Essex in the Southern Inter-Counties meeting at Hemel Hempstead this Sunday.

Bauer was representing Harlow in a Southern Athletics League

ALAN SCOTT reports from the Lee Valley Athletics Centre alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

men's match at the Lee Valley Athletics Centre in North London when he produced the phenomenal winning throw of 40.38m in the discus event.

This was nearly FIVE METRES ahead of his nearest rival, Gary Parsons, from Cambridge!

It was a season best by 2.5m and placed Bauer, of Quarry Spring, fourth in the UK rankings for the men's 45 category.

His best ever throw is 43.03m. Straight after launching his first 40m throw for two years, the Harlow Athletic Club veteran turned to watching Star Sports Editor Alan Scott and proudly announced: "I'm back!"

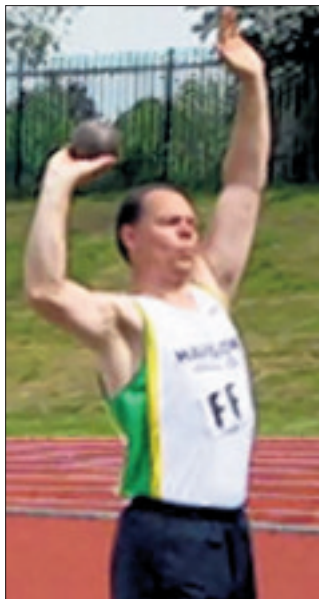

If only his record throw had come at the Great Britain Masters event in Birmingham two weeks earlier, he would have returned with a bronze medal.

But Bauer was just delighted to find a return to his old form. He said: "That's over two metres better than anything I achieved last season. I have been waiting all year for that."

"If my body can hold up I can throw further than my season's best no problem. Then see where it puts me. I'm very pleased with my big season's best in the hammer too."

Bauer was 3rd in the hammer with a throw of 34.57m. He took 2nd spot in the A shot put with 10.38m.

His discus effort was a remarkable

achievement considering he has been carrying an abductor tendonitis injury for the last two years.

He is still competing despite the injury. Bauer also had a thigh injury.

Harlow had hoped for a top two place at this meeting, but injuries to the Paxman twins and runner Mark Harris derailed their bid for more points.

Carl Paxman bravely carried on despite picking up groin and calf injuries. He still picked up valuable points with top three placings in no less than EIGHT events.

Glen Paxman also competed in a couple more events after picking up a hamstring injury early on.

Harlow were boosted by the Southern League debuts of three new members in the shape of Harlow Running Club members Jarod Bethell, Jamie Jephcott and Roy Stevens.

Bethnell won the A-string 3,000m steeplechase (11:27.3).

Glen Paxman claimed victory in the A-string 110m hurdles (20.2s) and the 400m hurdles (67.2s).

Harris completed a brilliant double.

He won the A 800m in 2:02.5 and the A 1,500m in 4:18.0.

Harlow also won the 4x100m relay in an excellent time of 47.5s.

Harlow were third in the four-team meet with 93 points.

Cambridge were overall winners with 111 points, just ahead of Bedford on 105.

Loughton were last.

Other results:

Glen Paxman - A high jump, 4th (1.60m); A 100m, 3rd (11.8s); A 400m 2nd (54.6s); A javelin 2nd (39.56m); B shot put 2nd (9.80m); A pole vault 2nd (2.40m); A long jump (6.36m).

Carl Paxman - B javelin 2nd (34.98m); B 3,000m steeplechase 2nd (14:07.0) A triple jump 2nd (10.83m); B long jump 2nd (5.43m); B high jump 3rd (1.40m); B 800m 4th 2:29.3; B 1,500m 3rd (5:49.3); B 400m hurdles 3rd (72.9s); B pole vault, 3rd (1.00m).

Chris Clark - B hammer 3rd 20.68m; B discus 3rd (23.31m).

Jake Reed - B 100m 2nd (12.5s); A 200m 3rd (24.7s).

Steve Down - B 200m 3rd (28.1s); B 400m 3rd (58.3s); B triple jump 3rd (9.54m).

Jarod Bethell - A 5,000m 3rd.

Jamie Jephcott - B 5,000m 2nd.

Harlow AC - 4x400m relay, 4th (4:03.5).

Ladies make it a great day for Harlow AC

THERE were plenty of excellent performances as Harlow's female athletes put out a side for the first time in the Southern League for several years.

It has been a long time since Harlow AC were even able to have both men's and women's teams at the same competition!

The ladies came away from Saturday's meeting at North London's Lee Valley Athletics Centre with a haul of top three places.

"We never get the two teams together. It's a privilege to shout for the women," beamed former Harlow AC chairman Chris Clark.

Eleanor Moss, Sarah Smith, Steph Fuller and Vikkie Taylor shone, taking home various first places.

In the senior women's events, Sarah won the A shot put (9.56m) and was first in the A string hammer (48.70m), while Vikkie – who was making her first competitive appearance in four years due to injury – was first in both the B shot put event (6.48m) and the B discus (17.80m).

Steph won the A discus with a throw of 25.61m and secured an impressive double with victory in the B hammer (33.28m).

Eleanor won the U-15 A string javelin (23.40m) and was 3rd in the B high jump (0.85m).

Eloise Lott was 2nd in the U-15 girls high jump (1.30m).

Laura Jephcott was third in the U-15 B javelin (10.44m).

Rosie Poole was first in the A-string 1,500m in a brilliant personal best time of 5 mins 22.4 secs.

She is now ranked 5th best in Essex and 13th in the East of England.

Men's team captain Dave Bauer added: "It was a very positive day all round, having the women's team there as well. It was great to see so many Harlow vests on show."

Other results: senior women - Lauren Freeman - A-string long jump, 6th (2.05m); B 800m 3rd (2:50.04); A long jump 6th (2.05m); B javelin 5th (9.74m); Isabel Moss - A 800m 5th (2:48.0); A 1,500m 3rd (5:25.8); Steph Fuller - A javelin 4th (15.01m).

U-15 girls:- Eloise Lott - A long jump (3.84m, 5th); Lucy Freeman - B discus 2nd (10.79m).

Hawks boss wants top start

DANNY Chapman has urged his Hawks to notch up four league wins and put down a marker in Ryman division one north next season.

Harlow Town will kick off their 2011-12 league campaign with a home match against Romford on Saturday August 20.

Town then go away to Chatham Town in Kent, who have been switched over from the Ryman division one south, on Tuesday August 23.

Play-off losing finalists Brentwood Town await the Hawks in a tough away match on August 27, before a home match against Potters Bar on Bank Holiday Monday (August 29).

In the Brentwood match, Harlow will then come up against keeper Elliott Justham, who rejected a move to Barrows Farm in order to move to their Essex neighbours just a fortnight ago.

"We have got to get off to a good start," Chapman told the Star. "These are four hard games but we are looking in really good shape. We want maximum points from our first four games.

"Romford did ever so well last season. We don't know too much about Chatham, but we know Brentwood as they got into the play-off final and that will be another hard game. The expectations are high, but we are ready. We will take it one game at a time."
